
“If you make a change, believe me, others will notice.”

“It has given me new energy to do the things I need to do.”

“When I go back, we’ll make the QI leadership skills work for us. We just need to start somewhere.”

GLOBAL HEALTH QUALITY IMPROVEMENT LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

July 24-28, 2017
University of Wisconsin-Madison

Health care providers, administrators and staff from Wisconsin and across the world join UW students, faculty and staff to learn the principles of quality improvement and develop leadership skills. Institute participants return home with specific plans to improve health and well-being and save lives. Invite your colleagues working in low-resource settings to attend the 2017 QI Leadership Institute.
